

PUBLIC LEDGER

FOURTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1895.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Parenly Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a valuable property. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free more than a merchant can afford to give away his wares or his goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business, and its publications are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter what part of the paper they appear.

The Confined Calls

upon The Ledger for free notices have been so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Births, deaths, marriages, etc., or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for ordinary notices, resolutions of societies, etc., a fee of FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however, notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Does Not Include

Advocacy of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Bulletin—Advertiser in The Ledger is $1.00 per line for insertion and 8 cents a line for subsequent insertion. Insertions of a five-line local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to his wife, "and you can go get all about it." The notice runs from the time it is taken out until $12. When he bids it out there is a chance for the money to go to him by an ion's pocket. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "I'll tell you when to take it out" will be accepted. If the notice has a definite agreement at the outset and a termination will be placed in the paper.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 8 o'clock in the morning of each day.

"If you have friends visiting you, or are going away on a visit, please drop us a line to that effect."

James Rhody, aged 34 years, was killed in clearing in Flat Creek neighborhood, four miles from Frankfort, by a heavy log which slid down the hillside, rolling over his body, terribly mangling the remains.

We often wonder why people will go to the Opera house to hear good music, and pay an admission fee, when the music at our churches far surpasses anything ever heard in the Opera house, and there is no admission fee to be paid at the church door.

Among the passengers on the ill-fated steamer Longfellow was Miss Carrie Elker, the beautiful daughter of Captain John Kirker. She was rescued by her father, who was in command of the boat. Miss Kirker is well known in this city, her home being at Manchester, where she resides with a aunt.

The streetcar authorities are trying a very good scheme for lighting the way of the motormen. Instead of hanging the headlight on the front end of the car, Superintendent Limerick has a large headlight placed on top of the car, lighted by several electric lights, which illuminates the track a good distance in front of the car.

FROM CINCINNATI

ARE THE FOUR YOUNG MEN WHO TRIED TO STEAL A CARLOAD OF PIGIRON.

Four young men of Cincinnati, whose health was anything but good, met by chance in a saloon in that city a few evenings ago.

They rushed the can, unbosomed themselves to one another, told their troubles to every one but the police, and were soon fast friends.

They had all traveled extensively, and many the pleasant incident of travel related during the evening.

It was the universal opinion of all that the din, noise and confusion of the city was anything but beneficial to them.

One of the crowd, who had never traveled in his life, suggested that the party pick out some outlet in the country where they could rest and regain their health and strength.

A watering place would never do, as they had all sworn off on water.

It was decided at last to travel in search of a place that would be satisfactory to all.

It was further decided to start at once.

Boarding a C. and O. train they started East. In order to get the benefit of a refreshing breeze that was stirring at the time they rode outside.

Here the Collector found them when the train reached Dover. In their haste they forgot to get the wherein on which to travel and as a consequence were forced to alight and wait for a remittance from home.

They waited and waited but the remittance came not.

Growing impatient at the delay they broke seal on a side door "Pullman" that was attached to a train bound for the East, and crawled in.

The car was loaded with pigiron, but as they were not looking for a soft snap it made no difference.

A brakeman witnessed the act and in feeling closed the door of the car, locking the invalids in. The train steamed on to this city.

Arriving here the trainmen notified several of our city officials of their distinguished passengers.

The officers escorted them to the Hotel de Johnson, where they are now registered.

A charge of breaking a seal on a rail road car was placed against the quartette, who gave their names as Jack Kelley, James Johnson, Mike Tierney and Bernard McCann.

A lot of paraphasia, with which to raise the denunciation of paper money, was found on them.

They were taken before Judge Wadsworth this morning, and were held in the sum of $500 each, which they didn't have.

An exposition of arts and industries will be held in the City of Mexico in 1896.

The Vanceburg correspondent to the Cincinnati papers has turned himself loose again.

William M. Hoover, the oldest person born in Scioto county, O., died at Portsmouth, aged 87 years.

A girl 18 years old, and wearing short clothes, was married to a boy at Hunting ton, W. Va., recently.

A misunderstanding of orders caused a rear end collision between a local Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train and a freight near Morehead Tuesday.

Joseph and Charles Riddle have a big dog which they work in their coal mine back of Russell, and which does the work of hauling coal buggies out of the mine like a real mule.

George Stevens, General Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, operated that road last year on 67 per cent. of the gross earnings, while it cost the Wabash 75 per cent.

The gross earnings of the L. and N. for the fourth week in February were $89,945, an increase of $31,791 over the same week last year, but a decrease of $8,847 as compared with 1893.

Henry McMillian and Ed. Scott, two young hucksters who were arrested in Cincinnati, one claiming Maysville as his home, were held over to the Grand Jury in the sum of $1,000 each.

The Dover News says: "Jim Stevens, the tollgate keeper, got $100 a day, and about a month each month. This adds to their regular salaries, makes $2,376 a year that it costs to collect the toll in Boyle county every year. We have about 2,700 voters in the county that pay to the turnpike companies every year about $47,300.

I think this is a fair estimate, and does not include the free travel done by school children, etc. If it is true that we pay out $47,350 a year in tolls, we can take the same sum and buy all of the pikes in the country in one year and have enough money left to repair them for five years. I am in favor of having even better roads than we have got now, and I also in favor of the county paying for the turnpikes unless they are worth it. For $500 or $600 a year we can employ a competent man to superintend every road in the country. I have been informed that it will cost only $20 a mile to keep the roads in repair. Therefore $3,000 will pay the overseer's salary, the cost of repairing and the pay of the Sheriff for collecting the tax. In other words, after buying the turnpikes, we will save $44,250 per year."

The Captain says if he is not thunderstruck he will come again with more "figures." He may be placing the value of the turnpikes a little low, as I heard it estimated that it would cost the county $100,000 to buy them.

Since the opening of the season last fall a party of Georgetown young men have caught fifty seven coons.

Marion county will issue $1,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of redeeming outstanding bonds already due.

Bolingbrook declared that the most agreeable food he had ever eaten was a slice of a boar's head served at a college dinner.

The seventh annual congress of Scotch-Irish Americans will be held at Lexington, Va., from June 20th to 28th inclusive.

When the boys of today get to be gray headed men they can tell about the February of 1895 as a month without a single rain.

The contract for erecting the new jail for Casey county was let for $8,200. The jail is to be of brick, with a residence for the jailer attached.

Grant county receives annually about $2,000 in dividends from the various turnpikes in the county, of which the county is part owner.

Richmond is entirely too close to the mountains. Wild beasts come down frequently, and the quiet people there are driven to their shotguns.

The eminent fitness of giving the name "Kentucky" to one of the new fighting ships has been urged upon the Secretary of the Navy, and he may be able to see it that way.

A correspondent supplies an ingenious answer to the question, "Who is the devil's wife?" thus: "The devil is the father of iyun. Lying is invention. Necessity is the mother of invention. Necessity is therefore the devil's wife."

An exchange says the following is an awful remedy for the grip: One gallon of whisky, one grain of quinine. Mix well before taking. If no improvement is noticed in one week, either increase the whisky or reduce the quinine.

There are two more fatalities now at Gallipolis. They are youths who went to join a ministerial troupe on the 13th Inst., were lodged in room 13 at their hotel, played No. 13 with the orchestra, and were turned loose to walk the ties Tuesday—13 days later.

The editor of one of our mountain exchanges, who is somewhat of a philosopher, moralizes thus: "It's a fact that we never know what a day is to bring forth, and but precious few of us, if any, know what to do after it's done brought. So look out; it may rain or snow before night."

Mrs. Bertha Welch, who was arrested last week near Scotiaville, in Allen county, for selling whisky without license, has professed religion and proposes in the future to "serve the Lord." She is said to be a remarkably pretty woman, who dresses neatly, and has just been released from jail at Bowling Green.

The editor of a Tennessee exchange speaks warmly of the colored and relieves himself as follows: "The low down sun of a gun who will meet a man he owes it the street and tells him he hasn't the money to pay the debt, and then slips round and pays the express charges on a jug of whisky, gets drunk and goes home to a needy family, ought to have both legs broken."

Speaking of free turnpikes, our genial friend, Harry Giovannoli of The Danville Advocate, furnishes this little talk he recently had with Captain Bottoms who we give below.

"We have between 75 and 100 miles of turnpike in this country, with about twenty-two tollgates. The tollgate keepers are paid on an average $100 per year. This amounts to $2,200 total. They also get house rent free, which about a month each month. This, added to their regular salaries, makes $2,376 a year that it costs to collect the toll in Boyle county every year.

We have about 2,700 voters in the county that pay to the turnpike companies every year about $47,300.

TO THE SOUTH.

Dr. Cook to Explore the Regions of the Antarctic Ocean.

Continent of 8,000,000 Square Miles About Which Little Is Known.

Selling Vessels to Be Used Instead of a Steamer—They Will Be Provisioned for Three Years—The Scientific Corps Will Comprise Only Five Persons.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Dr. Frederick Cook, the well known explorer, has come forward with a new plan for accomplishing the conquest of the Antarctic region. With a small band of scientists he expects to sail from New York September 1 next, and it may be three years before the expedition returns.

This project was for the first time publicly announced Saturday evening by the doctor himself, in an extended paper read before the Geographical Section of the newly organized Institute of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Cook has succeeded in enlisting the active support of various scientific bodies, and of private individuals, in his scheme. There is no doubt that the sum necessary to fit out the vessel, the exploration gear, etc., will be completely subscribed within a short time.

Instead of employing a steam whaler, as last year programme called for, Dr. Cook expects to secure two sailing vessels, each about 100 tons burthen.

Seafarers of the two vessels are only 100 feet long, but they are staunch craft, fairly rapid sailors, and superior for the ice work. The provisioning will be for three years, although the intention is to return in twenty-four months.

The scientific corps will comprise only five persons, including the leader. It will take the vessels three months to sail the odd six thousand miles from New York to the Gulf of Erebos and Terra.

The Antarctic summer will be commanding when the rendezvous is reached. If a clear sea presents itself, a further southling will be attempted. Otherwise the expedition will immediately return.

After erecting a substantial wooden house for a headquarters observations will commence. Later on sledging parties will set out over the inland ice to explore as much of the Antarctic continent as possible.

The first four months of the campaign, the regular commandant will be Gen. Jefferson Davis, afterwards the president of the southern confederacy. He served subsequently in the confederate army, and was made to hold the stars and stripes to the top of the south pole.

Incidentally it may be remarked that the Antarctic continent comprises an estimated area of 8,000,000 square miles, a sixth of the entire surface of the globe. So far as known the only inhabitants are icebergs, glaciers, whales, seals, penguins and some other animals.

In the course of his remarks, last evening, the Coop referred to the discovery by Capt. Larsen, of the Dundee sealing fleet, who found on Cape Seymour, in latitude 61° south, about fifty seals, apparently made by human hands, of sand and clay, and perched upon pillars constructed of the same material.

"This is the first evidence," said Dr. Cook, "of human existence in the Antarctic. To my mind human habitation on the Antarctic shores is not impossible, nor do I deem it by any means improbable that we shall find an isolated tribe of men, feeding and dressing from the liberal sea farms."

At the conclusion of the address steps were taken to appoint a committee of the section which will assist Dr. Cook in his expedition.

Dr. Cook is still a young man, being under thirty. In 1891-92 he was the surgeon and ethnologist of Lieut. Peary's first expedition to the north. He has gone to the Arctic twice since.

INDIANA LEGISLATURE.

Seymour Wins the County Seat—A Centralist Expedition.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—When the legislature adjourned Saturday until Monday, practically the last working day of the session was expended in the bill of importance was the general appropriations bill. Seymour won the county-seat by a bare majority.

The senate refused to suspend the rules for the passage of the bill prohibiting prize fighting, and the house adjourned without a resolution authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to take the preliminary step for a state exhibition to celebrate in the year 1900 the centennial anniversary of the Indiana territory.

PAT SULLIVAN'S STRANGE BANK.

PAL RIVER, Mass., March 11.—Pat Sullivan, aged 70, a rear-end drayman at 23 years old, died at death from an extraordinary cause Saturday night.

About 9 o'clock he went to bed with three pieces of money in his mouth. When his wife went to awaken him Sunday morning his body was cold and had apparently been dead for some hours. The medical examiner was called, and it was found that Sullivan had swallowed a half dollar, a quarter dollar and a nickel.

Prospectors Robbed.

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—Frank Ward and D. L. Sample, two young prospectors, who were mining copper in a canyon, near the Rio Grande border in Mexico, were attacked by a band of Mexican outlaws and robbed of their money and horses.

SIXTY NEGROES BAPTIZED.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 11.—A train of negroes, who had been converted to Christianity, came to the church of the Rev. Mr. Arderly's family, who were attracted there to witness the baptism of over sixty colored people recently converted.

The Staunton Advertiser.

PITTSBURGH, March 11.—The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Co.'s passenger steamer Andes burned to the water's edge Sunday night. Loss $10,000.

PEARLY'S EXPEDITION.

IF ALL IS TO GO AS PLANNED on His Big Journey Through Greenland.

New York, March 11.—If, Dr. E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, is alive and well, he is just about to start north on the Greenland ice cap for the northeast. He has already started his train to travel nearly 300 miles before he reaches his base of operations and can begin in the task he has set himself of mapping the still unknown coasts of the largest island in the world.

It is big enough to work all his friends in the country, but after he completes his explorations and descends from the ice cap some time in August, he will find at his winter camp a vessel has come and is ready to take him home, with all the product of his work.

Circus has just been issued announcing the plans of the Greenland scientific expedition of 1895. Efforts have begun to raise a fund for the purpose of fitting it out. The American Geographical Society has pledged the first $1,000.

It is expected the vessel will leave St. John's, N. F., about July 3, and the purpose is to afford a splendid opportunity to eight or ten scientific specialists to pursue researches in a region that for a generation to come may not again be easily and economically possible.

It is probable the party will only make a few short stops on the northward trip and will reach Peary's camp late in July or early in August.

On the way back the party will investigate in that exceptionally advantageous region, and still leave some time for work at more southerly points on the homeward journey.

SENATOR GEORGE TO RETIRE.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The announcement of the Mississippi Senator has been received.

The scientific corps will comprise only five persons, including the leader. It will take the vessels three months to sail the odd six thousand miles from New York to the Gulf of Erebos and Terra.

The Antarctic summer will be commanding when the rendezvous is reached. If a clear sea presents itself, a further southling will be attempted. Otherwise the expedition will immediately return.

To show the enormous profit made in whisky, the Owensboro Monitor has looked over the testimony in the suit between R. Monarch Distilling House and the Racine Spring Distillery and finds Mr. A. Rosenfeld revealed the fact that since 1886 he (Rosenfeld) had made $30,000 out of the whisky business, while W. S. I. Monsech had made $27,000 and Abe Hirsch $45,000. Mr. Monsech's original investment was $5,000. The three men are now equal partners, each drawing a salary of $1,500 a year. From his profits Mr. Monsech has bought property and is now erecting a handsome residence on Frederick street.
